Do you study political science, international relations or do security studies?

Are you an inter-disciplinary candidate with qualifications in economics, engineering, or human resources?

Your background is IT, media, or journalism?

You speak Arabic or Russian?

NATO needs your skills!

It is a fabulous experience to be an intern at NATO HQ. I have been directly involved in the heart of the NATO decision-making process and have learned about its functioning from within.

This internship has offered me the opportunity to meet diplomats and experts with whom I have shared in depth insights and stimulating endeavours.

Patrick G Weldon, French/American,
Defence Policy and Planning

Having an internship at NATO is great! You acquire experience for your future professional life in a multinational environment and at the same time you can enjoy being with people from all over the world.

Working at NATO is a unique chance to see how transatlantic relations function the inside. You feel at the centre of a fast-moving community involved in trying to make the world a better place to live in.

Alessandro Neto, Italian,
Public Diplomacy Division

NATO EXPERIENCE – THE REASON WHY

1. Get involved at the forefront of up to date security issues and world politics;
2. Turn your textbook knowledge into reality with thrilling projects on actual policy-making processes;
3. Experience a genuinely challenging working environment with civil and military staff;
4. Enjoy the NATO Staff Centre, which provides a wide range of clubs and sports facilities, incl. a swimming pool, gym, tennis courts, and football pitches; and
5. Spend six memorable months at NATO Headquarters located in a, truly, international Brussels.

FORMAL PREREQUISITES

Current students and recent graduates (1 year) with

- Age: over 21 at the time of internship (for insurance reasons);
- Nationality: nationals of a NATO member country*;
- Studies: at least two years of university study or equivalent;
- Languages: proficiency in one of the official NATO languages (English and French); working knowledge of the other is desirable.

My NATO internship has not been my first stay in Brussels; but a very remarkable one, because of the outstanding working atmosphere and friendliness I encountered. And unlike other big institutions in Brussels, NATO provides only for a small but bounding group of interns.

Liang Ge, German,
Executive Management
